DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 37-59 are presented for examination.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 38, 45, 47-49, 54, 56 and 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With respect to claim 38, the parameters set forth in the equation do not include "T". Therefore the equation is not satisfied making the claim indefinite.

With respect to claims 45 and 54, the claim language requires "updating means for updating the other images displayed on the screen of the display device at a predetermined timing, in order" for claim 45 and "updating the other images displayed on the screen of the display device at a predetermined timing, in order" for claim 54. The phrase "in order" fails to point out what this includes. Examples of order may be: sequential, by rank, random, by size, or anything at all. Therefore, the phrase "in order" fails to particularly point out with distinctness what is meant by such unless it is described by some modifier which gives it distinctness and definiteness.

Claims 47-49, 56 and 57 are rejected based on their dependency from claims 45 and 54 respectively.

4. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
- I. Claims 37-43, 50-52, and 58, drawn to selecting, compressing and combining images, classified in class 382, subclass 243, 282, and 284.
 - II. Claims 44-49, 53-57 and 59, drawn to combining image signals for display, classified in class 345, subclass 629.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as presenting thumbnail images and selected images similar to Adobe's Acrobat; invention II has separate utility such as displaying graphical animations over real scene video. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

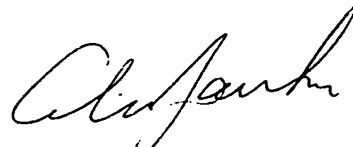

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
